DIABLOS MOTORCYCLE GANG MEMBER SENTENCED IN METHAMPHETAMINE TRAFFICKING CASE

PRESS RELEASE

Susan W. Brooks, United States Attorney for the Southern District of Indiana, announced that TONY P. McMILLIN, 33, Vincennes, Indiana, was sentenced to 295 months imprisonment today by U.S. District Judge Larry J. McKinney following his conviction for conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine. This case was the result of an 18 month investigation by the Drug Enforcement Administration, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Evansville Police Department, Vincennes Police Department, Terre Haute Police Department, Gibson County Sheriff's Department, and Vigo County Sheriff's Department.

McMillin, a member of the Diablos Motorcycle Gang, was a major distributor of methamphetamine for an organization that distributed approximately 600 pounds of methamphetamine in western Indiana with a street value of approximately $17 million from January 2001 through June 26, 2002. Packages containing methamphetamine were also shipped to McMillin's residence from North Hollywood, California.

According to Bradley A. Blackington, who prosecuted the case for the government, Judge McKinney also imposed five years supervised release following McMILLIN's release from imprisonment.
